

What's on in Malta and Gozo this week – January 2 to 8

I Landed. Malta

Spazju Kreattiv and the Marlands Project have collaborated on an exhibition featuring works by French artists Edgar Sarin, Lucy Orta and Max Fouchy and Maltese counterpart Sheldon Saliba.

Guest artist Sarin explored the island during his art residency in Malta as part of the Marlands project. His immersive, multilayered art project is the result of productive dialogues with islanders specialising in craft, culture and science.

During the exhibition, one can also take a trip to other Mediterranean islands through the artists' work: Orta will take visitors to the Balearic Islands and Max Fouchy to Sicily.

I Landed. Malta is curated by Elena Posokhova and Vince Briffa.

After the exhibition closes on January 8, it will move on to Catania, Sicily; Palma, Mallorca; Nicosia, Cyprus and Mallorca, Spain.

Visitors looking at an installation at the I Landed. Malta exhibition. Photo: Elisa von Brockdorff